- (e) the Seller must at its own cost collect its Grain, or if the Grain has been combined or comingled with other Grain, such other grain of the same Grade and quantity as the Buyer determines, from the location at which the BHC is then storing the relevant Grain; and
- (f) if the Seller fails to collect its grain within seven (7) days of receiving notice under this clause 4.4, the Buyer may deliver the Seller's grain to the Seller, less such portion of the Grain as the Seller considers is reasonable to cover its costs of the processing and returning of the Seller's Grain (and the Seller hereby grants to the Buyer an irrevocable license to enter into the Seller's property to deliver and return the Grain); and
- (g) subject to the Buyer's obligation to return the Grain, the Seller's rights under the Contract relating to the Grain will be entirely discharged and the Seller will have no further claim against the Buyer under the Contract.

- (b) fourteen (14) days from the date on which the Grain is Delivered to the Buyer; or
- (c) if the Buyer makes a payment to the Seller in respect of or in connection with the Grain;

BUT such acceptance is at all times subject to the Buyer's right to reject the Grain under clause 4.4, whether such right accrues to the Buyer before or after deemed acceptance under this clause 4.5.

5. Grain Delivery, Quality & Inspection

5.1 Delivery of Grain

All Grain the subject of a Contract must be delivered by the Seller to a silo operated by a BHC, at the cost of the Seller. If the Seller purports to deliver Grain to an Aggregated Grain Program and that Grain does not meet the requirements as to Grade, Quality or grain type published from time to time by the Buyer on the Website, or the delivery is made other than in accordance with the Contract, the Seller will bear all of the Buyer's costs associated with rectifying or rejecting that delivery.

5.2 Inspection of Grain

The Buyer may (itself or by its authorised representative) inspect the Grain to determine its weight, Grades and any Quality variations within given Grades. The Buyer's determination of Grade and Quality variations will be final and binding except in the case of manifest error. The weight of a delivery of Grain will be determined:

- (a) in the case of a physical delivery of Grain, by an approved weighing facility with the relevant BHC; and
- (b) in the case of an In Store Transfer of Grain, according to the original weigh bridge ticket supplied by the relevant BHC for that Grain.

The Buyer may reject any Grain that does not meet its published Grade requirements, or is delivered other than in accordance with a Contract or after the Buyer announces on the Website that it is no longer accepting contributions to the Aggregated Grain Program.

5.3 Failure to Deliver Contracted Grain

If the Seller fails to deliver Grain to the Buyer in accordance with a Contract:

- (a) the Seller will remain liable to AGG for the Aggregated Grain Program Management Fee that the Buyer would have been entitled to claim or charge in respect of the contracted volume of Grain, had the Seller delivered the Grain; and
- (b) the Buyer may also charge a contract administration fee of $200, to cover its costs associated with the Buyer's entry into and default of the relevant contract; and
- (c) the Seller will indemnify and forever hold the Buyer harmless against any trading or operational loss, cost, exposure or risk incurred or suffered by the Buyer in connection with or as a consequence of the Seller's failure to deliver Grain.

The Seller will bear the Buyer's costs (including legal costs on a full indemnity basis) of recovering any sum owing to the Buyer under this clause 5.3, or otherwise in connection with the Seller's failure to deliver grain in accordance with a Contract.

Market and credit risk associated with the Grain will remain with the Seller at all times.

All grain purchased by the Buyer from any seller of Grain under a Contract (during the period that any given Aggregated Grain Program remains open) will be contributed into the open Aggregated Grain Program and (subject to These Terms) treated equally with all other Grain so contributed.

8.5 Operation of Aggregated Grain Programs

as the Buyer may determine in its absolute and unfettered discretion. The Buyer will publish on the Website details of the port zones and BHCs within which it can accept Grain into the Aggregated Grain Program.

- (c) the Price payable to the Seller in respect of a particular Contract will be the aggregate of the separate amounts payable by the Buyer to the Seller for each Grade and Quality of Grain delivered by the Seller under that Contract. The amount payable by the Buyer to the Seller per Aggregated Grain Program, will be the Final Price (on a “per tonne” basis) for each Aggregated Grain Program multiplied by the total number of tonnes of grain delivered to that Aggregated Grain Program by the Seller, less the Aggregated Grain Program Costs (on a “per tonne” basis).
- (d) the Buyer has no liability to the Seller arising out of or in connection with the exercise of its discretions set out in clause 8.1(b) and the Seller hereby releases the Buyer to the maximum extent possible at law, from any claim, loss, action, suit or demand that the Seller might have against the Buyer but for the operation of this clause 8.1(d).

8.6 Independent Audit of Aggregated Grain Program

10.3 Deferred Payment

10.4 Payment Terms

- (a) The maximum amount of a Harvest Advance Payment or Deferred Payment, will be an amount calculated as follows:

$A = [(EPR \times T) \times P] - (EC \times T)$

Where:

A is the amount to be paid to the Seller in respect of the relevant Aggregated Grain Program including GST;

EPR	is the Estimated Program Return for the relevant Aggregated Grain Program including GST;

Any Payment paid by the Buyer will be taken to offset the then outstanding balance of the Paid Sum.
- (c) Deferred Payments are treated as in 10.4(b) above for Advance Payments, save that where the offsetting amount results in a negative difference (that is, when any Payment precedes a Deferred Payment) the Price will be increased by a notional amount at three percent (3.0%) per annum less than the Interest Rate.

10.5 Failure To Select Option

If in the Contract Confirmation establishing a Contract the Seller does not elect to take up an Advance Payment Option, the Seller will be deemed to have elected to receive the Price only by way of Aggregated Grain Program payments under clause 11.

The Seller hereby authorises (but does not oblige) the Buyer to pay the Final Payment in satisfaction of:

- (a) any claim by any Encumbrancer known to the Buyer; and before payment of any surplus to the Seller. The Buyer will not be liable to the Seller in respect of any loss associated with any delay in the declaration or payment of a Final

$$\text{ABP} = \text{BP} + (\text{BP} \times \text{R})$$

Where: ABP is the Adjusted Payment;
